

About MUSIC (in) GALLERIES

For two concentrated hours and at no cost to the public, MUSIC (in) GALLERIES will present some of the finest creative improvising musicians in Toronto in fifteen Queen Street West art galleries, from Crawford to Gladstone. Set times are staggered from east to west so that audiences can enjoy several performances and gallery exhibitions en route.

Please visit the MUSIC (in) GALLERIES CD Shop at Gladstone Art Bar (#15 on the map) where, during and immediately after the event, you can browse the recordings by the event's performers.

All of the event musicians are members of the Association of Improvising Musicians Toronto (AIMToronto), a not-for-profit musicians' collective with more than 120 members that promotes and supports creative improvised music in the Toronto area.
